DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary W. May, aged 86 years, died Friday night at the home of her grandson, Chas. B. May, near Shawhan, of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. May was born in Fayette county, and was a daughter of John McLean, a prominent farmer, who afterwards moved to Boyle county. Miss McLean was married to Charles B. May and to them was born one son, the late Captain John C. May, who conducted a real estate office in Lexington until his recent tragic death while on a business trip in Tennessee.

Mrs. May was a member of the Mt. Carmel Christian Church and an estimable Christian woman. She is survived by three grandchildren, Messrs. Charles B. May and Henry May and Miss Annie May, all of this county, with whom she has made her home since leaving Lexington. The funeral services were held at the residence Sunday afternoon, conducted by Elder John S. Shouse, of Lexington. Burial in Battle Grove cemetery at Cynthiana.

Nancy M. Price, the little three years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Price, died at their home in East Paris, last evening, of diphtheria. Burial this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Paris cemetery.

Miss Margaret Webb, aged 18, died Sunday at her home near Monterey, this county. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Webb. Burial in Paris cemetery yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Services at the grave by Rev. Dr. Geo. Varden.

Knew Their Lesson.

We were told a little joke that was perpetrated the other day on our most excellent Superintendent of County Schools, Hon. F. L. McChesney, that is too good to keep, and knowing his modesty in regard to telling things about himself we are going to tell it.

Mr. McChesney is noted as a fine speaker, but is something of a crank on the subject of fire, and when he makes his inspection tour of the public schools he invariably asks the pupils what they would do in case the building caught fire. The teachers knowing this peculiarity of his, have coached their pupils as to the answer which they should give him.

He visited one of the primary rooms at the city school one day last week to see how things were starting off. After hearing several recitations of classes, Prof. Chapman made a few remarks to the pupils, when Mr. McChesney, varying from his usual question, arose and said:

"You boys and girls have listened so attentively to your Superintendent's remarks that I wonder what you would do if I were to make you a little speech?"

To the consternation of their superintendent and teacher one hundred voices shouted in unison:

"Form in line and march down stairs."

None Better.

There is no better whiskey sold over the counter than Vanhook. You can find it on sale at any of the leading Paris saloons.

Paris Ladies Who Won Premiums

The following Paris ladies won premiums in the Floral Hall at the Blue Grass Fair last week:

Mrs. W. A. Thomson, 2nd on man's machine made shirt; 2d on boy's machine made shirt waist; 2d on sun-bonnet.

Miss Belle Ogden, 1st on crochet skirt.

Mrs. Walter Clark, 1st on apple jelly.

Mrs. R. B. Hutzcraft, 2nd on sweet pickled mangoes; 2d on chow chow.

Good Reasons For the Two Sessions in the Public Schools.

In last Tuesday's issue, just before going to press, we heard of a petition being in circulation asking the School Board to have the hours shortened at the city school. For the moment, thinking the hours were from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., we agreed with the petitioners and made comment to that effect. Meeting Prof. G. W. Chapman on the street Saturday we stopped him and after an explanation from him we readily saw we were in error and he and the School Board were right. A half session would be to the personal interest of Prof. Chapman, and he being for two sessions clearly shows that he is working for the best interest of the pupils and the school.

The hours now are from 8:30 to 11:40 a. m. and from 1 to 3:15 p. m. Fifteen minutes recess in the forenoon and fifteen minutes recess in the afternoon. The smaller children being dismissed before the above hour in the afternoon.

We think it due to Prof. Chapman to give some of his reasons, which are in fact unanswerable, why he favors the two session plan, and we give them below as near as possible as he gave them to us in our conversation with him:

1st. The school exists for the good of the pupils and not for the convenience of patrons and teachers.

2nd. Primary pupils learn only when they receive individual instruction. The two sessions give more time for individual instruction.

3rd. To develop mental power is as important as to gain knowledge of facts. The study period alternating with the recitation period give the pupils self-activity which cultivates and develops his mental faculties instead of making him a receptacle into which the teacher pours her knowledge. All recitations and no study may give much useful knowledge, but it can not give the power of independent thought.

4th. A few children may study sufficiently at home, but with the majority, they either have not the opportunity to do so or will not do so. Children to learn must study and to study they must as a rule, be cautioned.

5th. To learn how to study is of the highest importance and must be taught to children. The art of study is one of the fine arts and is not known to all of our patrons, while the teacher is, or ought to be, proficient in this important art.

6th. To eat dinner, warm or cold, and go immediately to study is very detrimental to health. The long noon hour gives time to eat dinner and to allow it to digest to some extent before the children are required to go to their study.

7th. No child is able to concentrate its mind on a recitation long at a time, however interesting that recitation may be. The two sessions make the recitation periods shorter, the time between the recess shorter and rests the concentration faculties by giving the pupils work to do at their seats.

8th. I know of only one school having only one session for the grades. All that have tried it have gone back to the two sessions.

9th. To try to do too much work in a given time must result either in slighted work or an injured workman.

10th. At the noon recess children need not and should not come to school until time to go to work in the afternoon, but for those who bring their lunches, as well as for those who come back early, teachers are at all times on the playground to supervise and oversee the playing, to teach lessons of justice in games and kindness to those who differ from them in play. No profane or obscene language is allowed, and the children on the playground taught many of their most important lessons.

Call at the Navarre.

When in Lexington don't fail to call on George Gregory at the Navarre Saloon. He is the same genial and polite George, and handles nothing but the best of liquors.

Clark County Killing.

Turner Taylor, a negro, was shot and killed Saturday night by Sherman Hall, white, on the farm of Joe L. Brown in Clark county. The shooting occurred early in the night, and Taylor died about 4 o'clock Sunday morning. The deed was done with a double-barrelled shotgun, the shots taking effect in the side and groin. Hall was formerly of this county and is well-known.

Senator McCreary Will Be Here Monday.

The friends of Senator McCreary in this city are talking of meeting the Senator at the depot Monday morning with a brass band and escort him to the hotel. A large delegation can easily be gotten together to meet this old war horse, who will speak at the court house Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Bourbon will give him a rousing crowd.

Old Vanhook.

If you need a bottle of real good whiskey for medicinal or family purposes, call for the Old Vanhook, sold in all of the first-class saloons in Paris.

Robinson Amusement Co.

The Indianapolis News of a recent issue has this to say of these great shows:

Of all amusement shows of the mid-way class that has ever visited Indianapolis, the famous Robinson Amusement company is the very best and is by far the cleanest, and it is the only one which has no feature which would mar the pleasure of witnessing it. There are no vulgar dances, nor tough specimens on the grounds, and no loud or unpleasant talking to which ladies might object.

In fact we can commend it as one of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in our city.
